

Hans-Juergen Wenzl started his professional career in 1986 at Unilever in Austria as cosmetic development chemist working with skin-, hair- and oral - care products, in 1992 he was promoted to head the development department of Unilever Personal Care in Austria.

In 1996 he joined Firmenich to set-up application-lab and technical client service in Vienna for the Central Eastern European region, and since then initiated further client service centers in Poland, Russia, Turkey and Iran which he currently heads in his function as Regional Technical Manager.